IBM Program To Be Started This Summer

Do you get that confused, dull depressed feeling at registrations?

Then take the 402 machine.

Have you ever asked as you stood in the wrong line at registration (and it's always the wrong line): "Why don't they do something about this mess?"

That question will be answered by the 402 machine if the staff of the business and registrar's office have anything to say about it.

The 402 is part of an IBM program to be put into use at summer registration after some six years of preparation.

In addition some 70 hours have been spent in devising office forms and codes for the IBM machines. For example each student who registers hereafter will be assigned a permanent number which he will have for the rest of his college work.

The staff members who will operate the machines also have been taking intensive training courses in preparation for registration. Dean Foster said that this has been rather a hectic experience.

The IBM system is in use in a number of colleges and universities. One faculty member who has been through such programs at two universities said he got that dull depressed feeling from an IBM registration as from any other.

But the program aims at cutting staff work required at registration in half and the student's work even more than that.

When John Dhon Dhone reports to registration, he will be given a master card containing his permanent number.

Then he makes out his schedule, gets it approved, and picks up a class card for each class. (However all classes will be limited in size.)

Two Plays to Conclude Spring Drama Season

TWO PRODUCTIONS will help wind up the 1962 Spring semester drama season here at NWMSC. One of the stagings will be under the direction of students and the other is to be directed by Dr. Ralph Fulsom.

CRADLE SONG

Stephanie Pershing and Patricia Dunham will direct this year's Drama Club production, "Cradle Song", May 17, in the Little Theatre, 8:00 p.m.

The two act comedy with an interlude in verse, by Gregoria and Maria Martinez Sierre, tells about the raising of a child which was left on the convent steps. The baby was placed under the care of Sister Joanna of the Cross, Judy McGinness.

Later in the play Rose Ann Gard plays Teresa who is in love with Antonia, James Hurley. Other members of the convent are: Katherine Johnson, Prioress; and Rebecca Book, Vicaress, along with many other sisters.

PETTICOAT FEVER

A disease contracted by the male member of their specie. when they have been subjected to complete abstinence and then are confronted by the female member or their specie.

This is exactly what ails Dascon Dinsmore, Bob Sandmaier, in "Petticoat Fever", May 3 and 4 in the Little Theatre, 8:00 p.m. The annual Alpha Psi Omega production is a non-tropical comedy in three acts directed by Dr. Ralph E. Fulsom.

The scene of the play is Eskimo Point, Labrador, a lonely place where Dascon operates a wireless telegraph station. Lonely until there is a plane crash with lovely Ethel Campion on the plane.

Others in this Mark Reed play are: Parker, Sir James Fenton; Stephanie Pershing, Ethel Campion; Daphne Hickman, Clara Wilson; Dr. Ralph

E. Fulsom, Rev. Arthur Shapham; George Fountain, Captain Landry; Ronald King, Kimo; Ken Price, Scotty; Rebecca Book, Little Seal; and Jeanne Hein, Snow Bird.

NWMSC Students May Study Afar

NWMSC will be affiliated with the Instituto Tecnológico Y De Estudios Superiores De Monterray during the summer term.

The institution is accredited by the regional accrediting association. All credits from this institution are acceptable for transfer purposes.

The institution makes it possible for a college to send students to Mexico for the summer session at a charge of $290. This amount includes tuition, board, room, maid service, laundry, medical attention, social and extra-curricular activities and transportation within the city of Monterray.

Regular applications must be filed by the students for acceptance to this program. Six semester hours of college credit may be earned during the summer session. Both undergraduate and graduate work will be offered.

The summer program will begin June 4 and will continue through August 24. NWMSC students will pay room and board at the rate of $16 per week at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory.

Credits will be transferable back to NWMSC upon successful completion of the courses.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Jobs Offer Education and Fun

by Sharon Mutti

What are your plans for the summer? Why not make the summer an educational and satisfying experience by working for the American Friends Service Committee in an overseas work camp, a U. S. work camp, or a community service project in Latin America.

While the experience offers fun and excitement, you will also benefit educationally and return in the fall with a feeling of having spent your summer in a worth-while way.

All who are 18 or over and have completed one year of college are eligible. The cost is variable, depending on which project you choose.

So take advantage of a thrilling summer experience. For information, contact the Personnel Department of the American Friends Service Committee, 160 North Fifteenth Street, Philadelphia 2, Pennsylvania.

What's the Bermuda Ruling?

Bermuda shorts! When can I wear them? How long do they have to be? Need I wear socks that meet them? These and a thousand other questions are being circulated around campus.

The situation was undoubtedly brought about by the trend as typified by the old cliché, "In warm weather young men and women's fancies, lightly turn to thoughts of bare, knobby knees. Anyway, the desire to expose as much of the legs as possible is upon us, and the only problem is in the rules. What are they?"

When trying to decide whether it is proper to wear shorts or not, the first logical place to turn is to the Student Handbook. Eureka! There on page 30 is a set of rules under the misleading heading of "Dress." (Logically it would be under "Undress.")

These rules, however, do not cover every situation that students encounter during college life. Much of the responsibility of deciding upon the wear of shorts is left up to the class leaders (teachers). The remainder of responsibility rests on the sound judgment of the students.

Didactics by Delivery

The Crackerbarrel Correspondence School opens its summer session course in Communications by offering one of the most widely sought courses in this area. This program, meeting bi-monthly, challenges a thinking student to write for the modern world—the better unit organizations are: I. Using Sweeping Generalizations, II. Building Broad Judgments, and III. Planning Unfounded Inferences.

Classes are built around the elimination of verifiable facts. (Note the application of this technique to most of the other classes at Crackerbarrel). Starting by instituting subject matter based on little information, the course works toward mastery of the language of no knowledge at all.

A successful career in the social control areas, especially in advertising or politics is guaranteed to the graduates of Crackerbarrel Correspondence School's, Communications 7.

Consideration and Patience Urged Until Construction Finished

"The situation will get worse before it gets better, but in a short time the parking facilities on campus will be drastically improved."

This was the comment of the Dean of Students Dr. Koerble, while discussing the construction work now in progress at NWMSC which has some of the parking lots torn up and blocked off.

Dean Koerble further stated that the Student Faculty Traffic Court will show leniency when dealing with parking tickets acquired when drivers must use another lot because theirs is under construction. He stressed, however, that this only applies to lots which are disturbed.

The remainder of the rules concerning proper parking will be rigidly enforced.

Two actions on the part of the students will help this situation; first, they are urged to show consideration by not blocking traffic or other parked cars. Secondly, those living within walking distance are requested to walk to class. The latter action would relieve the parking burden tremendously.

Parking lots which are not filled to capacity are 1, 4 and 5. If your lot is under construction, try moving to one of these.

IBM Program

John does not have to fill out a registration booklet as in pre-IBM days (not to be confused with IMB) nor does he fill out the class cards he receives.

All he writes is his name on each card.

That's all. Everything else is mechanical, electronic or something.

Except one thing. Fees must still be paid personally. No machine has been invented to take care of that.

Chalk Talk . . . Bob Cobb

Just like "Old Man River" the Bearcat tennis team continues to roll along. As of April 25, the netmen, mentored by Bob Gregory, proudly presented a six-match winning streak.

At the recently-held Kirksville Invitational tourney, the 'Cats unofficially finished second. St. Louis University won the event, which saw John Bregin go down in his first singles defeat of the season.

But even the Yankees or the Celtics drop one now and then, so Bregin need not be too discouraged. After all, how many college tennis players can boast of only losing three matches in four seasons of tough varsity competition?

Turning to intramurals, we notice that there has been an increased participation in that phase of our athletic program again this year. Presently, intramural softball is in full swing. The avid enthusiasm shown for this sport certainly proves that almost everyone enjoys the bat, ball, and glove game.

Oh Yeah!

Lately we have heard discussion that professional football has taken over the prestige held by major league baseball. The pro grid sport is on the upgrade, but it can never replace baseball in the hearts of dedicated sports fans. Agreeing with us is Morris Siegel, who says in the Washington Daily News, "Professional football, with its shallow claim to fame, has yet to produce a Chief Executive at one of its games, and until it does, it doesn't rank with baseball, certainly not in the prestige department." So there!

Chuckles:

A couple of seasons ago, when former Washington Senator Harmon Killebrew was raging a deadly homer-assault on the Baltimore Oriole pitching staff, Oriole manager Paul Richards was heard to remark, "That Killebrew fellow could hit a ball out of any park. . . including YELLOW-STONE!"

State College Netters Subdue Jewell 2nd Time

William Jewell came back strongly but was unable to overcome the Northwest State College tennis power in a return match in the MSC gymnasium Saturday won by the Bearcats 8-1.

It was the seventh straight dual win for the 'Cats, and the second time they had defeated Jewell in less than a week.

Last Monday, Jewell was blanked by MSC, 9-0, on the Liberty courts.

Mark Jeter's 6-1, 6-3 win over John Kelley was the only victory for the Cardinal netters. And Dennis Wright and Bill Koll of Jewell extended their opponents, Larry Piper and Neil Reynolds, in the singles, to three sets each before losing.

A MSC doubles team of Kelley and Doug Mossberg was extended three sets by Jewell's Jeter and Gary McCormick before winning.

Results of the match were as follows:

Singles

John Bregin, MSC, defeated Rick Clark, WJ, 6-4, 6-4.
